Called Upon to Respond

We live in a time and culture of unprecedented wealth and abundance. Yet there are still those among us without a home, living on the street, lacking adequate food or clean water, not just around the world but right here in our own community. Why is this? When there is more than enough food for everyone on our planet, why is it that millions of people still go hungry every day? And how are we, as Christians, called upon to respond?

Because of the geographic location of our church, “the poor among us” is a fact of which we at Redeemer are acutely aware. Many of us have had encounters, in our parking lot or at the church door, with folks asking for help. How we as a church should respond to these entreaties is, frankly, an issue that we have struggled with. Our leadership has asked church members not to give cash to beggars in the parking lot or at our door, because that encourages them to return regularly and to tell their friends that cash can be found here, and because it can potentially lead to confrontation if someone asking for money is not satisfied with the response.

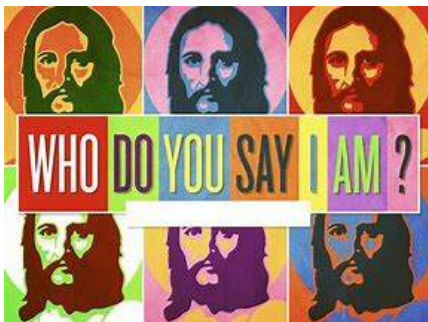

While Father Scott was our rector, he would keep bags of emergency food and toiletries that he would hand out from the office. We continued that practice for a while after he left, but we recently stopped because we concluded that it was not really helping anyone and might even be detrimental to the recipients of such hand-outs. We came to this conclusion after a number of our parishioners were inspired by remarks made by Rev. Deb Richardson-Moore, the pastor and director at Triune Mercy Center, during the visit there that was part of our “Summer of Service” in June.

Based on that experience, and our need as a church to grapple with how we should respond to the fact of poverty in our community, we are planning a 5-week study this fall of the book, Toxic Charity: How Churches and Charities Hurt Those They Help (And How to Reverse It). Rev. Richardson-Moore will kick off the topic at our Sunday service on September 16. The book discussion will then begin the following Sunday, September 23, immediately following the service. I encourage you to join us for those talks, to explore with others at Redeemer how we can best, and most effectively, help the needy in our community. You can pick up a copy of the book at the church office for free (though if you’d like to keep the book for yourself, we ask for a $6 donation to cover its cost).

Jesus said, “you always have the poor with you,” which could be read to imply that poverty is an inescapable part of the human condition. In this passage in the Gospel of Mark, however, Jesus adds, “... and you can show kindness to them whenever you wish.” Some Bible scholars believe that the statement, “you always have the poor with you,” was an intentional reference

Vestry Meeting Summary

The summary for the monthly Vestry meeting can be found on our website or posted on the bulletin board outside the office. Go to www.CORSCG.ORG monthly for a detailed summary of the topics, discussion, and decisions which transpired during the last Vestry meeting.

(....cont'd from p. 1) by Jesus to Deuteronomy 15:11 – Valley Connection, and Project Host Soup Kitchen. “Since there will never cease to be some in need on the earth, I therefore command you, ‘Open your hand to the poor and needy neighbor in your land.’” Viewing scripture in this light, we see that we have been commanded by God and exhorted by Jesus to be open-handed towards the poor, to treat them with kindness and generosity, and to do so willingly, liberally, and ungrudgingly. See Deuteronomy 15:7-10. We help support a church member who is a missionary to the needy in the Ukraine and an orphanage in Mexico where one of our members has taken a longstanding leadership role and to which many of our members have made mission trips over the past 15-20 years.

Is this the best approach for us to take?
Is it enough?

So at least one answer to the question posed above – why in this time and culture of great abundance do we still have the poor?—is that they are a call upon us to respond. Their existence among us demands that we make a choice, through our free will, as to whether and how we will help. Our congregation is very generous with its time, talent, and treasure, and we have given substantial support in all three forms to Mother Theresa House, Samaritan House, Pleasant

Please join us on September 16 as we welcome Rev. Richardson-Moore to speak with us about her experiences and insights, and for the following weeks as we discuss how we as individuals and as a church can most effectively help the poor among us.

September is here and there are plenty of activities gearing up at Redeemer. I hope everyone had a great summer and is getting back into the swing of things now that another school year has begun.

Everyone has busy schedules and time is a precious commodity for all of us. Redeemer is a great place to make your investment.

Redeemer is a place that is about family, friendships, and most importantly, a place to strengthen our faith. It is a place to renew our spirit and learn how to be a better disciple for Christ. Redeemer is a place to plant those seeds of faith for our children so that they will grow in their love and knowledge of God.

I look forward to all the possibilities that await us as we begin a new season.

Peace and Blessings,

Lori Hawkins

Youth Mission—Yard Sale

Thanks to all of you who donated to the yard sale! And a special thank you to the volunteers who spent countless hours preparing for the sale as well as all the volunteers who helped during the sale. Without volunteers we would not be able to have the sale. Although we had a small turn out, a net profit of $2,154.00 was raised which will be used for EYC mission work.

Reaching beyond our Church:

This yard sale, on its own, is considered an outreach project because we provided our community with items of clothing, housewares, etc. at prices well below Goodwill's. The left over items were donated to many locations:

- ◆ Miracle Hill (furniture & stuff), Shoes 4 Water project (shoes), Greenville Literacy (books),
- ◆ Greenville Humane Society (towels and blankets)
- ◆ Operation Bear Hug (stuffed animals) supporting our local police and emergency responders who give stuffed animals to children they encounter in trauma situations.
- ◆ Heart of Hands— Welch, West Virginia's Mission Group helping people who live in poverty with no running water or electricity. They were so excited to receive clothing and bedding and items for their thrift store which supports their mission work.

All items went to good use. Again, thank you for your support.

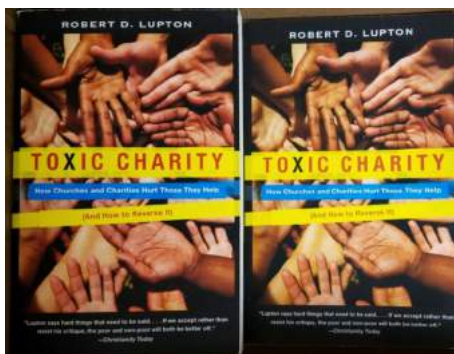

-Stephany Austell, EYC & the yard sale team

SUMMER OF SERVICE/TOXIC CHARITY: POLAR OPPOSITES?

Some Summer of Service participants made note of Deb Richardson-Moore's discussion about her experiences at Triune Mercy Center and about how to be compassionate to folks strolling through our church parking lot asking for handouts. Church members have received messages in the bulletin/newsletter not to pass out money, but to direct folks to the church office during business hours. But, that might not be helping in the best way possible.

Most people feel good giving to charities, but how do those charities serve their clientele with donations of dollars, time, or material goods?

Come join adult Sunday School as we take a "book club" approach to the book, Toxic Charity: How Churches and Charities Hurt Those They Help (And How to Reverse It). Together we may be able to work on a better solution and make charity an effective gift.

Deb Richardson-Moore will give a sermon to kick things off on September 16th. Books are available at the office or in the transept. Books are free to use for the study, but if you would like to keep your book, please pay $6.00 when you pick up your book or send payment to the parish office.

Get a book, read Chapters 1 and 2 only, and join us each Sunday from September 23 - October 21 in our Sunday School room.

DOK Fall Assembly

The Church of the Redeemer will host a joint meeting of the Fall Assembly of the Daughters of the King and the Diocesan Episcopal Church Women on Saturday, September 22.

The meeting will include the installation of the 2018-2021 Diocesan Board of the Daughters and the annual Convention/Installation of the Board of the ECW. We will share Holy Eucharist, lunch and the program with both groups. The program will be the "SHIFT" with author Mark Tidmore. He is an excellent speaker, and it will be a treat to hear him talk about his book that we studied last spring.

The day will begin with the ECW Convention meeting and include the DOK Assembly meeting, combined Eucharist and Installation of Officers, luncheon, and speaker. Mark your calendars now to be a part of this day!

Because our Daughters group is hosting this major event, we are asking for help in preparing for the day. We especially need people to help greet guests throughout the day and serving lunch. Please let Phyllis Webb or Margie Hankinson know if you are available to assist.

Register NOW through our weekly email or on our website at www.corgsc.org.

ONLINE CALENDAR

Redeemer now has an online calendar so you can keep up to date with all the comings and goings here at the church. The calendar is linked to the weekly email. To add your name to our email distribution please email or call the parish office.

Finance Committee

The Finance Committee meets on the 2nd Tuesday of the month.

Please note this on your calendar.

ANNUAL PARISH PICNIC

September 9, 2018 at 10:30am

The fun is about to begin!!! Join the parish as we celebrate another year of fellowship with our annual picnic at the park!

Church Picnic

This year we will be headed to Cleveland Park in downtown Greenville. You know the place. It's at the Greenville Zoo. Yes, literally at the Zoo! We have reserved the picnic shelter right there at the parking lot entrance to the zoo. We will have use of the shelter, the playground, a field for games, Bring your children and invite your friends.

Our picnic will begin with service at 10:30am right there at the park in shelter #29. The church will provide chicken strips, tea, lemonade. We ask all attending to bring a side dish to share, yard games, and a folding chair. You may bring other beverages too, but there is no alcohol permitted. Bring your friends and neighbors too!! Please mark your calendars and plan to join us!

(there will be 8:30am service at the church for those who can't handle the outdoor setting)

FROM THE LOFT

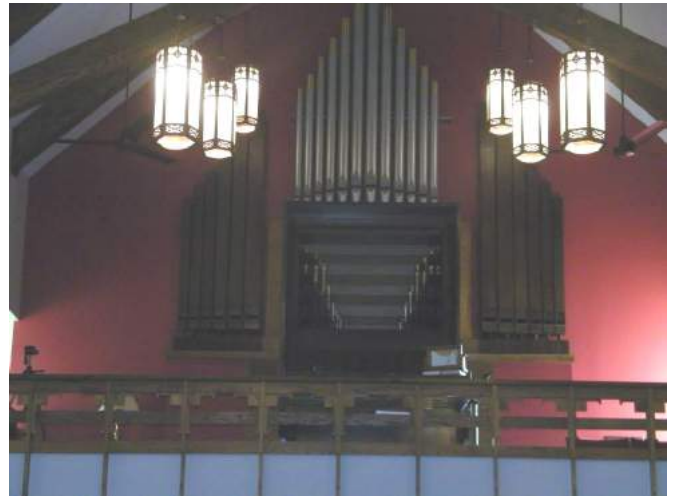

Can you believe summer is almost gone? Here we are in September and it seems we just started the new year. Time has really gone by quickly.

As I am writing this, I have completed the music for the first four Sundays in September. Our picnic is the second Sunday, the ninth. That is also the day I leave for France for two weeks. I will miss September 16 but will return on Friday the twenty-first, just in time to help the ladies celebrate on the twenty-second in a service with the Bishop. While I am gone, Mr. Larry Loftis will be at the organ and Mr. Jeff Wellman will be rehearsing the choir for the two Wednesdays.

The joint handbell choir will resume the first week in November. We are also going to be using our set of handchimes. We have several players but need a few more. Please check with me about playing. We will be rehearsing on a Sunday morning, right after Sunday School and for only about 30 minutes. This is subject to change, depending on the group.

Christmas is coming! Plans are being made for the Christmas Eve Services and for a service of Lessons and Carols for a Sunday afternoon, including choir music and your favorite carols. Watch for more details.

The Gallery Choir is in need of more singers. We are trying to grow and we need your help. There are many of you in the congregation that could sing. Please adjust your schedule to allow for an hour and a half on Wednesdays and 45 minutes extra on Sundays and come help us.

FINANCIAL STEWARDSHIP 2019Stewardship Sunday—October 21, 2018

God has blessed us all in so many ways. How do we feel God is calling us to respond to those blessings? That is the question we need to prayerfully contemplate in the coming weeks as we may make our financial pledge on Stewardship Sunday. Jesus says that where your treasure is where your heart will be. You have God's promise that if you grow in your giving, you will grow in your relationship with Jesus. To be God's steward is an amazing thing! God's stewards treasure the following values:

FIRST—Give to God first and live off the rest.

INTENTIONAL—Develop a plan for giving.

GENEROUS—Give generously to others, especially those in need.

REGULAR—Establish a pattern for your giving.

PROPORTIONAL—Give in proportion to what you have.

CHEERFUL—Know that "God loves a cheerful giver."

Consider pledging this year; consider raising your pledge from previous years. Let's make Stewardship Sunday a time when we can all feel closer to God through our trust in Him and commitment towards His ministry in our church. By doing so, we will be: "Drawing near to God to make and equip disciples and to live as faithful followers of Christ."

Update from Gary Powell, Redeemer's Missionary in The Ukraine

Dear brothers and sisters at The Church of the Redeemer, I offer you greetings in Christ's name from Ukraine.

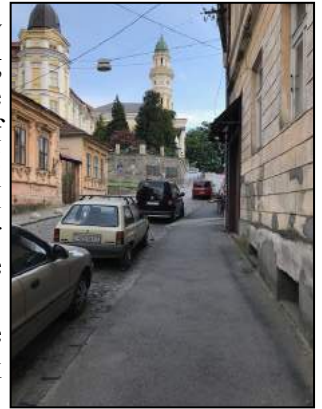

As I mentioned in my last letter, my goal is to begin sharing more of the walk that through your prayers and financial support, we are doing together here in the name of Jesus. Everyday brings me closer to that walk. I am beginning to hear many testimonies of faith among the forgotten and oppressed people here in Uzhgorod.

To get to know the Roma people I have begun visiting each of the five camps of the Roma. I am doing this not only to get to know their culture, but also to spread the love of Christ and to share the power of prayer to even non believers in the camps. I take a translator with me.

It took a lot of prayer for guidance and sensitivity, in addition to asking God to work through me, before I actually walked inside the first camp. Foreigners are viewed with suspicion and each camp is governed by a baron or king who dictates and rules every aspect of their lives. If viewed as a threat to their authority I could be in trouble with the ever present Roma mafia who often takes matters into their own hands and "takes care" of any perceived threat.

It is with that possibility in mind that motivates me to tread very lightly. I first tell the people I meet that I have no money or goods to offer, but I do have the love of Christ and am willing to share prayer with them. I have now gone into three of the five camps and was welcomed into many homes as I walked through the streets. The three camps that I have visited thus far have an established Roma church. I have actually attended two of the three churches when a translator has been available to me. I have shared scripture with them and enjoyed a time of joyful praise and worship with them.

I believe that I have already mentioned the living conditions that most of the people must endure. In one of the camps with about 25 families and many children, I was met by a lady, her husband and daughter who are the only believers in the camp. They try to have a home church meeting every week inviting the others to join them, which some do, but as she explained, when Jesus is mentioned some scoff at His name and leave.

I asked if I could meet some of the other families and she said yes, but warned me that I probably would not be welcomed. I have to say that God must have wanted His love and the story of Jesus to be known because the first family I greeted asked me to come into their house. I did my best to make small talk with them. When I began to ask them about their family, I told them I was a servant of Jesus and asked if there were any prayers that I could pray for them.

They asked me to please pray. As I was praying, I looked up and saw another family listening outside their window. I motioned to them and they came inside and we all prayed together.

As I left those two families other people gathered with me. We sat on the ground and they let me pray for them, as well. I prayed over their sick, their children and to let Jesus come into their hearts. The lady that led me to them was astonished that the families let me come into their homes, and then let me pray for them. She said they never have allowed that before. This is only one camp. In future letters I will tell of many more testimonies where our work in the name of Jesus is spreading.

In the recent updates from Redeemer I see where Redeemer is again this summer going beyond its church walls to share the love of Christ. The knitting group is finishing up the caps, sweaters and scarves they and several churches in the area are making to be shipped over for the hundreds of children and adults here in Ukraine who, with winter rapidly approaching, have almost nothing to keep them warm.

Today I will be going with another team member to a baby hospital where there are abandoned babies from the ongoing war in the east of Ukraine. This is a part of One Collective's ministries that I have not yet been involved with. We will go and hold and rock these babies and give them lots of love.

Until I am able to write again, please know how much I feel your continued prayers. I am truly a blessed humble servant and I send prayers of God's blessings upon each one of you.

His,
Gary Powell

PS: I sent a selection of pictures showing Uzhgorod and from a recent trip to the Trans Carpathian Mountains which Uzhgorod is within this region. The countries of Poland, Slovakia, Hungary and Romania border us.

I do not have pictures of the Roma camps. I have to be very careful to be sensitive. Even though I live and work in a beautiful area Christ's work is with the Roma people. If I do manage to get pictures from the camps it would let you realize the terrible conditions in which they live.

Father Mark's Remarks

"Life is like riding a bicycle.

To keep your balance, you must keep moving."

Albert Einstein

And so we at The Church of the Redeemer keep our balance by moving into this fall's many busy activities. Prepare now for the 'Blessing of the Fleet' (bicycles – not yachts.) Children up through the fifth grade are invited to decorate their bikes, trikes, big wheels and other non-motorized forms of transportation and bring them to church for a blessing at the regular service on Sunday, September 16. They are encouraged to invite their friends to do likewise. Photo ops will abound as they enter in the opening procession, the prayer for safety and blessing, and during the Bike Rodeo that immediately follows the service.

The preceding Sunday (September 9) will be the 10:30 A.M. Service & Church Picnic with an alternative service offered at the Church beginning at 8:30 A.M.

The first Sunday of the month (September 2) is Labor Day Weekend. During our regular Sunday morning service we will celebrate a 'Blessing of the Tools of the Trade.' Bring a small and clean token of your labor (some sort of tool or instrument). Be there a few minutes early so that it can be placed on or at the foot of the altar for subsequent blessing. Retired folk are especially encouraged to participate by bringing something from their life's work.

"So that you may lead lives worthy of the Lord, fully pleasing him, as you bear fruit in every good work and as you grow in the knowledge of God."

Sunday Service Time

Since the single 9:30am combined service has been so well received, the Vestry has decided to continue having one service at 9:30am on Sundays until we have a new rector. Sunday School will follow the service, from 10:45am to 11:45am.

(The exception is Sep. 9 the parish picnic service is at 10:30 with an 8:30am service at the church)

ALTAR FLOWER DEDICATIONS

Flowers on the altar are more than just an adornment for the front of our sanctuary. It is an historical tradition to show our thanks and humility to the Lord. It is a symbol of recognition of His Glory. Dedicating the offering in the name of someone is a great honor. Our 2018 Altar dedication book is on the communication table for special dedications to be made. Special requests for flower type, color or arrangement style can be noted.

Dedications are only $35, but the awe of honoring his Glory cannot be measured.

The Search Is ON!

On August 5, the search committee and vestry had a very productive meeting with the Transition Representative for the diocese, d'Rue Hazel. We gave her the parish information to post the rector position. Thanks to the vestry and members of the search committee for their proactive compilation of this important information.

The position has now been posted on the diocesan website and will remain there until September 28. In October the diocese will begin a preliminary screening of the candidates and forward the "good fit" priests to our search committee. Interviews here at Redeemer will begin soon after we receive them.

We are well on our way in the process of selection of a new rector. Please continue to pray for God's direction for all of us.

Prayer for our Rector
Almighty God, giver of every good gift: Look graciously on your Church, and so guide the minds of those who shall choose a rector for this parish, that we may receive a faithful pastor, who will care for your people and equip us for our ministries; through Jesus Christ our Lord.
Amen.
