From The Rector

Jump Into the Way of Love

It's summertime and the living is ... a little strange. Most of us have stopped wearing masks in many, if not all, places. We are able to eat at restaurants, travel, visit friends and family. We probably have adequate supplies, or access to supplies such as toilet paper, cleaning products, flour, pasta ... and many other items that were unavailable for months. Buying cars, furniture, appliances and other goods still has limited availability or long lead times. And we are fine! We live in such abundance that we bathe with potable water – we take showers with drinking water! – a luxury not known by many people in the world.

As we adjust to this new life, or a renewed life with many choices, let's not give up every way in which we functioned during our quarantine times. Not everything. Not every way. Remember? We had unasked for quiet times; it would be great to continue that, even if we ask for quiet times now. Families ate together, did jigsaw puzzles, baked bread, and reached out via technology through which we could see one another. We had the technology before 2020, but not the longing, the yearning and grief that we experienced and maybe still do. Continue some unrushed time, time apart from excess and overload, and time to plant, pray, be creative, get outside, reconnect with people around us, and those we have overlooked through the luxury of being somewhere else.

At Redeemer, I hope to keep things simple so that we concentrate not on things, but on our relationships with one another and with God. I highly encourage giving up “pajama church” and coming back to worship at 120 Mauldin Road. We gave up in-person worship abruptly; reestablishing corporate worship as a pattern of our lives takes attention and energy. Coming to corporate worship does not mean giving up the sacred spaces that we set up in our homes. It does not mean putting aside the wonderful worship and educational materials from last summer, from Advent, from Lent. Instead, we have the opportunity to expand our worship so that worship and prayer are part of the rhythm of our lives and not only our Sundays. The apostle Paul writes about “praying continually;” the psalmist writes about our souls longing for God as deer long for the water brook. Our souls are hungry for prayer, thirsty for the love of God. We have just the place to feed those deep needs and desires of our hearts.

Remember that the body is not complete until we are all here. You have the exact gift that someone else at Redeemer needs. We all have holes in our lives that only God can fill. Come back. Jump into the Way of Love, the way of Christ. We miss you, even as we have wonderful, joyful worship together again. Thanks be to God!

In Christ,

Catherine+

Vestry Meeting Minutes

The minutes for the monthly Vestry meeting can be found posted on the bulletin board outside the office.

Memories Made and To Be Made

Often these days, our thoughts and conversations include "Remember when....". Positive, happy experiences stay with us all our lives, accumulating and piling up unnoticed as we move on to the next day, month and year. It sometimes happens with negative experiences too, like COVID-19. Fortunately, the virus is behind us for the most part. While in a locked down state, we had to draw on our individual 'Remember whens' a lot, right?

Your Redeemer Vestry has had to wrestle with our collective 'Remember whens' as we've been challenged to resurrect the many positives our church life consisted of and will do so again. With God's Grace and your recognition of it, we are definitely making progress toward that objective. The signs of it exist and are blinking, waiting for you to notice. But you've got to be present to see them and experience them. If you haven't come back yet, know that you are missed and needed to round out the Body of Christ at Redeemer. You remember how good it was 'back in the day'? We are on the way to that and more. We have a terrific core group of members taking care of the basics, but there's a lot more to do to recapture the 'remember when' experiences. We acknowledge change is inevitable, but accept it knowing it could result in fostering even better memories than before. Our Maker's help awaits us if we just go for it and trust!

The following was written by an author unknown to me:

"This is a story about four people named Everybody, Somebody, Anybody and Nobody. There was an important job to be done and Everybody was sure that Somebody would do it. Anybody could have done it, but Nobody did it. Somebody got angry about that, because it was Everybody's job. Everybody thought Anybody could do it, but Nobody realized that Everybody wouldn't do it. It ended up that Everybody blamed Somebody when Nobody did what Anybody could have done."

Each member of the Vestry heads up a Commission with needs and opportunities worth finding out about and participating in--all you need to do is ask about them. The Body of Christ at Redeemer has a place marker reserved for you to come worship, learn, laugh and be part of something very special again.

Senior Warden

Palms...don't throw them away!

If you are like us, you are finding your Palms from Palm Sunday all shriveled and looking like they should be discarded. Palm leaves obtained from church on Palm Sunday are blessed, so they should be treated with a certain amount of reverence. Blessed items should never be discarded in the trash. The proper way to dispose of your palm leaves is to burn them. If you save your palms until Shrove Tuesday, we will burn them in a special pan that evening, outside in the playground area, for use on Ash Wednesday.

The Deacon's Corner

Hello Church of the Redeemer! I cannot tell you how excited I am to have been appointed to serve among you as a vocational deacon. It has been a circuitous route to this point in my life, but I will share with you that this is a good place. I am a retired public-school teacher of thirty-seven years. I have a husband, Michael, two adult children, and three grandchildren. I live in the quaint little town of Landrum, and I love to travel. I am a Companion in the Northumbria Community where I have led retreats and served on the house team (northumbriacommunity.org). I enjoy doing prison ministry, and I am very active in the Kairos Prison Ministry International Movement where I serve as a trainer for Kairos Outside. I am also a spiritual director.

As a deacon, I serve as a bridge between the "people in the pew," and the people in the world. I will seek out and serve those who are in need, and I will make every effort to take you along with me. A deacon's role is to communicate the needs of the world to the Church. I will also have a liturgical function on Sundays where I will read the Gospel, lead the prayers, set the table, and give the dismissal. I will also preach from time to time.

I hope to be able to offer some classes when needed and to work with small groups whose individuals would like to strengthen their spirituality.

While serving at Redeemer, I plan to spend my first year getting to know the congregation, participating in your established ministries, and introducing you to new ministries. By the end of the second year, I hope to have established new ministries and strengthened existing ministries that are lay led and define the people of Redeemer as a those who "draw near to God and live as faithful followers of Christ." I hope you are as eager as I am to explore where God is calling us together to take the love of God to the world.

I will be in the office two days a week and on Sundays. Please stop by and make a point to introduce yourself and tell me a bit about yourself and The Church of the Redeemer. I'm looking forward to meeting everyone in July.

-The Rev. Deacon Janet Atkins

ON THE MAP You are ... where??

Redeemer residents we want to put you on the map!

A Greenville county map is in the Transept.

Your last name is attached to the bulletin board with a pin; Please locate where you live and pin your name on the map.

Don't worry we're not going to stop in for a surprise visit. We would like to get a better visual of where everyone lives.

Thanks for your help!

Chairs & Changes

Who likes change?! We might like change if it means coins jingling in our pocket, or if the change is an idea that we thought of, like having dessert before dinner. When it comes to change about practices of great meaning to us ... well, we do not like those changes very much, if at all. When I worked for a large corporation, change came quickly; I was transferred to a new location about every eighteen months. My notice of the upcoming move came on Wednesday, at most. Yes! On Wednesday (or one time the day I was leaving on vacation) I was told in what state my new office was, and I needed to be there on Monday. Whew!

I recently announced a small change that we will observe in our worship time and space. With The Rev. Deacon Janet Atkins joining us in July, we will be adding another minister in the sanctuary. Where will she sit? She is not an acolyte, crucifer, or lector, but she needs a place, a chair. What might be appropriate?

Early in Christianity, bishops had a special chair, the cathedra, from which we get the word cathedral. The cathedral is the bishop's main space, the "seat" of the diocese. A bishop oversees a diocese through ministers throughout a diocese: laypersons, deacons, and priests. A bishop regularly visits parishes throughout the diocese; many churches keep a special chair in the sanctuary just for a bishop to use. In between visits, the chair reminds us of the bishop's authority, prayers, and presence with us.

These fancy chairs that parishes keep are not used very often; bishop's visitations come about every other year. In between visits, the congregants are the praying presence in the congregation, with a rector as the spiritual leader. The vestry and I were reminded at our recent bishop's visitation that the diocese is not a building in Columbia, SC, but all of us – every congregation in the geographic diocese of Upper South Carolina. Each branch of the diocese, the congregation, is led throughout the year by a spiritual leader we call a rector or vicar. It is the bishop's preference that rectors sit in the congregation's bishop's chair as a reminder of our interconnectedness and of the clergy's role of acting in the bishop's place for worship when the bishop is not in attendance. In some congregations, this seating arrangement is common practice.

At Redeemer, the rector has been sitting in a chair to the right of the altar. Our deacon Janet will begin using that seat, and Mother Catherine (me!) will sit in the bishop's chair. Will that feel strange to you? Yes, it will feel strange to me, too, at least for a while. I ask that we prayerfully remember that in everyday life, a chair is a place to sit – and no more. We may be placing a lot of weight on a particular seating place in our worship space, on a chair. A seminary professor liked to say that a bishop's chair was wherever the bishop was sitting – in an office, at the breakfast table, at worship. Having a single chair used infrequently does not reflect the theology of the bishop's seat – a bishop's "home" church, the cathedral.

I thank you for your support as we make a change in our worship space that has a different look and feel to what we do today.

In Christ,
Catherine+

Transportation

There are requests from time to time for parishioner transportation needs (attend the Sunday and Wednesday church services, pick up prescriptions, doctor office visits, to and from hospital or doctor's office for treatments).

Pastoral Care is looking for both those individuals who have such needs, which would normally be short term, but could be long term and those who could provide transportation to fill such needs.

If you feel that this might be a ministry that could help you or the Lord is calling you to help with, please contact one of the following:

Dean McKinley (Transportation coordinator - 864.395.1101)

Betty Herrin (Pastoral Care Leader - 864.884.6780)

Christian Education

I hope everyone is enjoying their summer break. I would love to hear what you all are doing and see some photos!

Although we are on a break from Christian Ed. for the summer, there is still plenty going on. Plans for the fall are in the works! If you have a child, older youth, or young adult in the family it would be great to get some input and hear what you would like the fall at Redeemer to look like. Has your child been baptized? Are you looking for a First Communion or Confirmation class? These are all options for classes if there is a want or need. The plan is also for Nursery to be fully staffed for fall. Do you know anyone looking for a part time job on Sunday mornings?

The saying, "It takes a village," could never be truer when it comes to the church. We all must work together and show up if the goal of the church is to grow disciples and followers of Christ. We know the children are our future, how do you want them to carry out the future of the church? It is so easy to get consumed with school, academics, sports, jobs, and careers. Make no mistake, all the above are important and fulfilling in so many ways, but there must be balance. I too, am guilty of all the worldly worries every. single. day, and being off balance more days than not.

It boils down to this: the most important thing in this world is to have a strong foundation of faith and a devoted prayer life. Yes, life will get in the way and other things will become a priority from time to time, but shouldn't we all strive to become better, stronger, more equipped? We will all have times in our lives that storms will rage, or our faith wanes, but I believe that is how God grows us. Who wants to stay the same, and say they have life all figured out, not me? HE is constantly molding us and refining our faith. We have all been given special gifts, we also have our own fair share of challenges and ways we can grow and change. Imagine what we could do if we all got fired up and committed ourselves to being the hands, feet, faces, hearts, and souls of Jesus...

The Fourth of July and the Church

Independence Day is listed in the Book of Common Prayer as a Major Feast in the Episcopal Church. We are supposed to honor this day. Independence Day, July 4, is the day on which the colonists in what we now call the United States declared their independence from England in the document of a similar name: The Declaration of Independence. Why do we recognize this day in church?

“We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. - That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Compare the first sentence with some familiar bible passages:

Galatians 3.28: There is no longer Jew or Greek, there is no longer slave or free, there is no longer male or female; for all of you are one in Christ Jesus.

As Christians, we ground our equality in Christ Jesus. Jesus' words are strong:

‘You have heard that it was said, “You shall love your neighbour and hate your enemy.” But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be children of your Father in heaven; for he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the righteous and on the unrighteous. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have?

Do not even the tax-collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers and sisters, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? Be perfect, therefore, as your heavenly Father is perfect. (Matthew 5:43-48)

The second sentence is a statement of the way in which we govern: by the consent of the people.

As we celebrate on Sunday and Monday, pray the Collect for the day, giving thanks and pondering how we might continue to strive for God's will in our country and the world.

all people are created equal ~ love one another as I have loved you

Lord God Almighty, in whose Name the founders of this country won liberty for themselves and for us, and lit the torch of freedom for nations then unborn: Grant that we and all the people of this land may have grace to maintain our liberties in righteousness and peace; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

For the Lord your God is God of gods and Lord of lords, the great God, mighty and awesome, who is not partial and takes no bribe, who executes justice for the orphan and the widow, and who loves the strangers, providing them with food and clothing. You shall also love the stranger, for you were strangers in the land of Egypt. You shall fear the Lord your God; him alone you shall worship; to him you shall hold fast, and by his name you shall swear. He is your praise; he is your God, who has done for you these great and awesome things that your own eyes have seen. (Deuteronomy 10:17-21)

The Summer Day, by Mary Oliver

Who made the world?
 Who made the swan, and the black bear?
 Who made the grasshopper?
 This grasshopper, I mean--
 the one who has flung herself out of the grass,
 the one who is eating sugar out of my hand,
 who is moving her jaws back and forth instead of up and down--
 who is gazing around with her enormous and complicated eyes.
 Now she lifts her pale forearms and thoroughly washes her face.
 Now she snaps her wings open, and floats away.
 I don't know exactly what a prayer is.
 I do know how to pay attention, how to fall down into the grass, how to kneel in the grass,
 how to be idle and blessed, how to stroll
 through the fields,
 which is what I have been doing all day.
 Tell me, what else should I have done?
 Doesn't everything die at last, and too soon?
 Tell me, what is it you plan to do
 With your one wild and precious life?

Garth Update

Volunteers Bill and Louise Heizer, Annette Burdette, Rick Hankinson and Daniel McCullough put in a hard mornings work of sweat equity into the Garth.

On June 26th these civil servants made huge feats of success and accomplishment in bringing the garth's disregarded overgrowth back to a path of well maintained beauty. A morning full of reduction in the form of pruning, pulling weeds and ivy, trimming limbs and removing unwanted infestations was also met with promotion.

Louise donated flowers to bring color and life back to the green canvas as well as some rearrangements of existing time tested plants in this space.

Daniel worked to purge the shed of years of unmaintained clutter. The shed was emptied, cleaned, expelled of expired and purposeless supplies, reorganized and stocked with new tools that were graciously donated. A much more usable space to encourage further progress in seeking to make the garth the most coveted space for reflection.

I encourage everyone to stop by these months to appreciate the hard work and reach out to maintain the momentum.

- Daniel J. McCullough

Outreach

The Outreach committee has been inactive for a year. We still are supporting Samaritan House, the Pleasant Valley Connection (PVC), Mother Teresa House, and other appropriate things as they come up.

Samaritan House is averaging 90-100 clients each Thursday who pick up food. The food comes primarily from Harvest Hope Food Bank. We also receive some from Loaves and Fishes, participating church donations, Big Lots, and food drives from many different groups. Buncombe United Methodist and their Trinity campus have been very supportive with their space for us and other monetary, volunteer, and donation help. Steve Fior is doing a great job as director. Other Redeemer connections who are volunteering there are Robby and Beth Hamilton and Margie, and Rick Hankinson.

Robin Mill is our representative at PVC. She is trying to coordinate some monetary help for their summer camp activities. PVC has 50 kids there every weekday. Contact her if you can help. Rick did a little tutoring in their after school program in the Spring after he was vaccinated. He also did a science presentation and plans another this summer.

If you would like to help, we are organizing again after the pandemic vacation. Contact Rick Hankinson at 864-569-2615.

45 Days to Raise $45,000

We only have 45 days to raise $45,000 for the 13th Annual Julie Valentine Center Run2Overcome 5k/10k/kids fun run presented by The Haro Group of Keller Williams on August 7th in Cleveland Park. The event will be back in person this year! There is a virtual option also.

Consider a donation of $45 or more (even $450) to help us reach our goal to raise $85,000.

- $25 snacks children's waiting room
- $45 transportation for clients home from ER
- $50 clothing and shoes for clients in the ER
- $75 supplies for therapeutic groups
- $125 supports prevention education programs
- $250 support forensic interviews of children
- $500 supports therapy for child & adult victims
- $1,000 supports parent support and education

During the past year of COVID-19, JVC received cuts to both our federal and United Way funding, which significantly impacts our budget. Julie Valentine Center continues to provide free 24/7 quality care to survivors of sexual assault and childhood sexual abuse and needs your support to keep doing so. Your donation directly impacts a survivor's journey to healing.

Sexual Assault and Childhood Sexual Abuse are issues that continue to have a profound impact on our community. Last year Julie Valentine Center provided services to nearly 2,000 adults and children.

Register as an individual or form a team to walk or run! Friends & Family teams as well as corporate/organization teams added. You can also register to fundraise for JVC, as an individual or team.

From the Altar Guild

As we enter into a new phase of lesser Covid precautions, be assured that the Altar Guild is still being extremely careful in preparing the wafers for consumption at Communion.

We use plastic gloves to count and place the wafers in the ciborium, and our priest uses a plastic glove and copper tongs to deliver the host to each parishioner who comes forward.

Some of you have noticed that we are only using a silver chalice and paten, instead of the pottery that we would normally use during Lent and other times. This is because it has been noted that the pottery has many crevices in which “germs” can reside.

We continue to be as careful as possible with our preparation and clean up after services. A big thanks to the ten Altar Guild members who set up and maintain our altar each week.

-Margie Hankinson

Pleasant Valley

Pleasant Valley Connection is planning to take the 9 teens participating in the summer program to Atlanta for four days in late July. The youth will gain the real world experience of an extended field trip. They will learn more about the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and the civil rights movement.

Participants will also have the opportunity to experience hands-on STEM activities. The goal is to raise $7,000. Many of the teens have not been out of Greenville or South Carolina. If you would like to donate to this wonderful experience, contact Robin Mill at 864-421-3945. Robin is Redeemer's member of the PVC board.
